EMBASSY

EMBASSY TECH VILLAGE

We opted for Embassy Tech Village (ETV) as our trading floor infrastructure because it aligns perfectly with our core principle of prioritizing the psychological and physical well-being of our trading community. ETV's LEED-certified green building, tranquil environment with greenery, and campus-like layout create a space that reduces stress and enhances mental health, crucial factors in the trading world. Its organized, clutter-free design, coupled with state-of-the-art architecture, offers an efficient workspace, ideal for trading operations. In choosing ETV, we've not only secured a functional trading floor but also fostered a collaborative and supportive trading culture, ensuring that our traders have the best possible environment to excel.

We opted for WeWork, the world's premier managed office service provider, to establish our trading floor due to its unparalleled expertise in creating vibrant and efficiently managed workspaces. WeWork's commitment to providing top-notch amenities, including high-speed internet and 24/7 access, perfectly suits our need for seamless international market trading. The open floor concept of WeWork spaces not only fosters a dynamic and collaborative atmosphere but also ensures flexibility and adaptability in our trading operations. We chose WeWork because their spaces align seamlessly with our requirements, ensuring that our trading community has the ideal environment for peak performance and success.

Dear Patrons,

We are thrilled to introduce "thefloor," a trading floor meticulously designed with the trading community's best interests at heart. This innovative platform is not just a step forward; it's a leap towards empowering traders, whether you're just starting or looking to enhance your trading skills.

Thoroughly detailed in this brochure, you'll find a comprehensive list of resources. However, it's imperative to consider the investment involved in setting up your personal trading station, ensuring you have solo access to all the necessary resources. Remember, resources are the lifeblood of a trader—their importance cannot be overstated.

From indispensable reference books, charting software subscriptions for thorough analysis, a community for discussion and informed decision-making, to uninterrupted 24/7 access to thefloor, reliable internet connectivity, a high-performance trading station, and a campus-like environment where the world's leading companies thrive—all these tools and resources are fundamental.

While it's true that one day you might trade from any corner of the globe, thefloor is where your journey begins. It's a platform designed to refine your skills, energize your spirit, and equip you with the resources necessary to trade confidently from anywhere in the world.

To our esteemed patrons, understand that this venture goes beyond mere productivity and cost. Trading is a business where being resourceful can significantly impact your success. Once you've honed your skills, you will have access to capital from industry leaders—a testament to the value of expertise and preparedness.

So, what are you waiting for? Seize this opportunity to make the most of it. This isn't just an investment in a platform; it's an investment in your future as a successful trader.

Warm regards,
thefloor
